
Sponsor for Philharmonic

Rumors that the Recreation Commission will make itself financially responsible for the Edmonton Philharmonic Society should be translated as quickly as possible into fact.

The Edmonton Philharmonic is a valuable civic asset.

It affords wholesome entertainment for those who are not intimately acquainted with music and a cultural delight for those who are.

It affords a genuine service in inculcating a love for good music in the children of the city.

It pays real dividends in happier and more contented homes brightened by facilities that broaden and sweeten life in Edmonton.

It makes this city more attractive to visitors and more desirable as a place to live.

Edmonton cannot do without the Philharmonic.

But the Edmonton Society, like all

The Wheat Market Outlook

The wheat growers in Canada certainly have every right to choose how they will market their product. They grow the wheat; they have the right to say at what price they offer it for sale, and how it should be sold. Everyone else in Canada is warmly in favor of the wheat growers getting a good price for their wheat.

A majority of the wheat growers seem to favor the idea of selling wheat by bulk contracts between governments at a fixed price.

It is now arranged that Britain will buy this year's Canadian crop at $2.00 per bushel, and an International Wheat Agreement has been made under which the price of wheat is guaranteed to be not more than $1.80 nor less than $1.20 for the next four years.

There is the same talk of overproduction of wheat as there used to be before the war, but, up to date, there has been no trouble selling wheat at higher prices than these, and, this year, Europe has a short wheat crop again and there will be no bumper crop in Canada. There will be a large crop in the United States, although not as large as was expected at one time.

Looking over the situation, it seems fairly certain that with an open market, societies of the kind, does not make money. They are always in financial difficulties.

In many places, musical organizations of this kind are supported by outstandingly wealthy citizens. It seems to be the nature of these endeavors that they always require sponsorship of some kind or another.

But Edmonton, as yet, does not possess that large number of those great fortunes that devote themselves to the subsidization of the arts.

Since that is the case and since the Philharmonic is indispensable to this city, the citizens themselves should supply that sponsorship.

And it is reasonable and fitting that this citizen sponsorship should reach the Philharmonic through the Recreation Commission whose particular business it is to see that Edmonton life is enriched by just such things as the Philharmonic supplies.

the price of wheat would be beginning to rise just now, but the people who grow wheat have preferred the other arrangement, and it is as certain as possible that, however short the crop, there is no chance of the Canadian farmer getting any more money for his wheat than is fixed under these agreements.

It will be interesting to see how all this comes out. Up to the minute, it looks very much as though the bulk selling of wheat by the government has cost Canadian farmers some hundreds of millions of dollars already, and that it may cost them some millions more in dollars more.

One fact is plain. The wheat growers chose this method of selling their wheat, and have supported the government which undertook it. Sometimes it is said that the farmers should look to the taxpayers of Canada to help them to bear the losses which have resulted from this plan of wheat marketing, but they will look in vain.

Mr. Abbott is certainly not going to face the rest of the country with a tax for the purpose of compensating wheat growers for any losses which they sustain under a marketing plan which they have endorsed.

they cannot be touched by U.S. law as long as they remain in Canada. Their mail, if recognized, is stamped "fraudulent" by U.S. postal officials.

Canada has always been proud of her reputation for fair dealing. Alberta has fine industry, which is dependent, to a large extent, upon the availability of investment capital.

These parasites have no regard for either the reputation of Canada or the reputation of Alberta—or any other province—for that matter.

It is time Alberta pressed the dominion government for strenuous action against these unscrupulous people. If there are no laws on the books at present under which they can be prosecuted, the Alberta government should press for the passage of such laws.

We don't want the name of Alberta to become a synonym for "fraud" south of the border.

Colony Of U.S.

Editor, Bulletin.—When, oh when will we get rid of our American complex? Our gold is sold to the U.S.A. at a pegged price of $70.00 an ounce even though we are like the rest of the world short of U.S. dollars and gold on the world market would bring $55.00.

We buy from the States three to every one dollar we sell here. On the other hand British, our best customer has to cut down on her imports from us because we will not accept her currency, thus denying Canadians the prosperity that should be rightfully theirs.

Where, I would like to know, do we get this subservient attitude in the U.S.A.? Britain and Western Europe between them do and can produce the goods we need, but we are, it seems afraid of being called colonial, therefore we are becoming more and more independent of Britain to our loss, and on the other hand becoming a colony of the United States.

The U.S. never did have the statesmanship of the British and the only reason they are so well off today, if you can call it that, is that because geographically speaking they are situated in the right spot.

Let us look at their financial position today. First they have a higher national debt than half of the world put together. The American dollar instead of helping the Western nations, is killing them as well as themselves.

The government of the U.S.A. borrows from the people so as to loan the western nations the money to buy American goods, without any hope of repayment, thus creating a false prosperity amongst their own people. Even that, as is part becoming apparent, is falling off.

Now if the Americans had accepted foreign currency right after the war, they would have taken a slight loss at first but the result would have been to stabilize and put value into the currency of other nations.

Editor, Bulletin.—I think it is only fair when a subscriber cancels his subscription to advise the editor why.

I cancelled my subscription last week at a point in the article which appeared under the name of Beddoes concerning cricket.

I indicated to the Communist has in the past antagonized universally circles, the football and hockey and none too expertly he has published in your paper and now it is cricket. I suppose he does it from a hole in the ground but has evidently consulted an encyclopedia and has obtained some information concerning the history of the game. If he had left his article at that, it would be of an informative nature, but the rest is just calculated to hurt the feelings of those who are interested in the game and serves no good purpose.

It so happens that I have played this game in Edmonton for 35 years until for physical reasons I was forced out a few years ago so you will understand why I resent the article.

From Today's News

Simple rage-on the local and semi-official level—is the first reaction of the Chinese Communists to the escape of the British ship Amethyst.

This reaction is going to be worth watching because it may disclose the true temper of the Chinese Reds over an issue that involves their pride and their future policy.

The first reaction points, but strikes no hammer blow. It shows signs of having been completely anticipated and none too expertly. There was a broadcast by the Peiping radio, heard in San Francisco by The Associated Press.

There were two separate items. The first was a "news story" from Nanking to the Communist new China news agency, giving the Red version of a battle of the Amethyst's dramatic escape. The second is the agency's own commentary.

The account attributes everything to a Gen. Yuan Chung-kai, who is not identified in what appears to be the haste of writing. Later in the commentary, the Red version of the Amethyst's escape is given in a more coherent English which the Peiping radio usually displays.

The Amethyst, he says, forced a passing steamer, the Kiangling, to serve as a shield as she started her "infamous" escape. The Amethyst then sank her, as well as a number of junka trying to rescue survivors in the water. Seven hundred were drowned, says Yuan, who also charges that British naval negotiations for the Amethyst's release were merely to stall for the time while she prepared to escape.

"Categorically denied," is the terse comment from the London Admiralty to this whole account.

Yuan is quoted as concluding: "I firmly believe that the People's Liberation Army and people of the whole country will never forget to avenge those who died. They will never forget and pardon."

He demands punishment, apology and compensation from the British.

The agency's commentary is also in the same line.

Such language, in both items, is threatening but only vaguely so. It might mean, in the Red version, that Yuan was in less obvious haste and anger, and in the coherent English which the Peiping radio usually displays.

It is reported in Copenhagen that the Bolsheviks have taken Riga.

Canadian Families Fail to Increase

Baby Bonus Plan Doesn't Have Hoped-For Effect

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Canada's baby bonus program is out of the toddling stage, having just passed its fourth birthday, but there's no sign of the increase in size of families that was expected to result from it.

MAJ.-GEN. E. G. WEEKS
... Through soldiering.

General Weeks Quitting Army

By DOUGLAS HOW
OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. Ernest G. (Bunny) Weeks, CB, CBE, MC and Bar, MM and Bar, is leaving the army at 53 to make room for others because he remembers when he came to the conclusion—after 12 years as a captain—that the brass just never quit or died.

After 38 years of soldiering that brought him four gallantry awards, took him through just about every rank from private to major-general and saw him as a key figure in the reorganization of Canada's post-war army, he goes on retirement leave as adjutant-general Aug. 15. The military small fry will always remember him particularly as a big humane man who could always be seen with a minimum of red tape and who would go to almost any length to eliminate injustice.

Defence minister Clineau saluted his departure by calling him "a distinguished fighting soldier and a great administrator" and saying his "capacity, hard work, expertise and absolute fairness were responsible for overcoming most of the problems" during the army's readjustment after 1945.

The first man to benefit from Gen. Weeks's desire to give way to younger men is 40-year-old Brig. W. H. S. Macklin CBE, a native of Scarborough, Ont., who steps into the post of vice adjutant-general with the rank of major-general. In the second year, he started out as signals chief, held various high administrative jobs in Canada, the United Kingdom and Italy.

When family allowances were introduced in 1945, many persons predicted the program would encourage larger families.

With the exception of a sudden jump in the birth rate between 1945 and 1946, there has been comparatively little fluctuation since the inception of baby bonuses.

FAMILY REUNIONS

The 1945-46 increase is attributed to the fact that many families, broken up by the war, had been reunited, resulting in an unusual rise in the birth rate.

The difference in size of families between 1947 and 1948 would appear to be a fair basis of comparison.

In 1947 there were 3,021,600 families in Canada and the average size was 3.7 persons a family. In 1948 there were 3,088,000 families with the average size 3.8—just one-tenth of a point higher than the previous year.

During those two years the size of families in all parts of Canada remained the same with the exception of Quebec where there was an increase from 4.3 to 4.4.

3.7 PRAIRIE AVERAGE

In the prairies the average family contained 3.7 persons, and British Columbia 3.5.

An indication that family allowances are not producing the expected effect is that fewer children were born in Canada last year despite the fact there were more people in the country.

In 1947, with the population standing at 12,582,000, there were 29,242 babies born each month. Last year with the population up to 12,883,000 the monthly average of births was down to 28,807.

The drop was consistent for each of the nine provinces which made up Canada at the time. Newfoundland, where mothers began to receive cheques in April of this year, has received $2,236,000 in family allowances in the three months. The cheques are going to 62,334 mothers on behalf of 332,475 children in the new province.

LITTLE CHANGE IN SIZE

In looking at family allowance statistics for 1945 and 1949 it can be seen that there are many more families but little change in the average size of those families.

In May of this year 140,602 cheques were issued on behalf of 282,282 children. The ratio of cheques and children is roughly 1 to 2, indicating that while there are many more families, the average number of children of baby bonus age hasn't changed in four years. Up to the end of May this year $1,002,682.76 in family allowances had been paid in Canada and cheques during June were expected to have added another $20,000,000.

As of last March Canadian mothers receive $3 for each child under six years of age. The allowance increases to $6 for a child between six and 10 and to $7 between 10 and 13. From 13 to 16 the allowance is $8. Payments stop at 16.

Fraser Salmon Harvest Good

River Alive With Boats As Big Sockeye Run Landed

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Aug. 3 — (CP) — The Fraser River's silver harvest is flowing into the nets of 2,000 fishermen today after the British Columbia salmon fleet located the biggest sockeye run in years.

From the Pattullo Bridge here to Mission, B.C., 60 miles upriver, the Fraser is alive with chugging boats. Netters figure on a catch of 100 fish daily per boat.

The season opened July 25, but the catch was sporadic at first. Now, after the 12-hour closure enforced by law each week, the river is chock full of the squirming finches, worth about $1.25 apiece.

Landings should surpass the 1937, 1940 and 1941, the last good years.

"The improved catch to date, the Pacific International Salmon Commission believes, is a direct result of the giant Heil's Gate fish ladder built in 1945. Turn from the spawning fury of the lower Fraser canyon at Hope, 100 miles east, the ladder in that year helped 200,000 salmon climb to their spawning grounds.

Before that, since a rockslide caused by railway blasting in 1913, the fish had been cut off from their breeding place, and the catch suffered.

The ladder was built by a United States-Canadian commission formed to protect the industry, potentially worth $15,000,000 annually to B.C., and untold sums to the U.S.

French Politics Quiet, Country Has Prosperity

By Bruce Underhill

The French political scene, so far, is comparatively calm this year, its greatest prosperity in years.

Political life has been quiet since the election of the new government in June.

Quiescence has to reconcile the views of followers which range from Socialists to Conservatives. He cannot afford to antagonize any of the groups in the 618-member chamber of deputies which together can outvote the 143 Communists and fellow-travellers and the 40 outright supporters of De Gaulle.

HEAVY PRESSURE
Recently the government has been under heavy pressure from the more conservative members of the chamber to modify some of its more socialistic policies, especially where they concern nationalized industries and social services.

Leader in this campaign is Paul Reynaud, veteran politician whose program as finance minister was rejected last year before the present administration was formed. He argues that the French people showed they favored a more liberal policy in the department elections of last March, in which many

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—"The amazing thing about Chinese films is that nobody wants to kiss anybody. Do they make love in China or don't they?"

This question was posed and answered in a copy of the Singapore Free Press received here. It explained that while an American kisses his girl anytime he gets the notion, "the average Chinese male prefers to do his petting in some inner sanctum."

"It just isn't done," reported the Singapore Free Press. "The average Hollywood clench is considered to be lewd and degrading in the eyes of polite Chinese."

AGE-OLD KISSES

Yale-educated playwright Yau Hui-Nung claimed kissing is no western monopoly. The wily Chinese have been doing it for ages.

But love-making in China is an art, says Yau and there is little of the boisterousness of the west in the intimate embraces of the east.

The Chinese lover also uses his eyes. "Eskimo-style," adds Yau, is collect fragrances of the dame's cheek—plus copious splurges of cheek rouge.

The western influence has taken its toll, however, and it is not unusual in the big cities to see boys and girls kissing openly "with a finesse that would make an American green with envy."

Some Chinese used to enjoy holding in their hands the round feet of their sweethearts but the custom of bound feet has died out. The manchu loved to hold hands—just. "Quite, exciting, what!" adds reporter Shaw.

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—Biggest news in the Capital the past week was on the economic front when Finance Minister Abbott told a press conference on his return from Britain that the dollar exchange crisis was Britain's baby.

Abbott made it plain Canada was taking a hands off attitude as far as accepting any responsibility for pulling the United Kingdom out of the economic hole.

He went so far as to say that Canada had gone "just about as far as we can go" in the matter of loans to Britain.

In effect, Abbott was saying that Britain and the sterling area countries would have to sink or swim by themselves.

He out-peddled his bluff with an attempt to frighten by intimating that whatever Canada could do in the way of bolstering the British export market would be undertaken—as long as Canada didn't suffer by helping Britain.

Abbott, at the economic conference in Britain had unmistakably lined up Canada with the United States in his hand that West Britain had got herself into Britain could get herself out of.

The only thing Canada could expect from Britain was difficult situation, Abbott made plain, was trouble.

Trouble might not be forthcoming for a while—but until Britain's Canadian contracts run out at the end of the year. But it would be foolish not to expect a big slashing cutdown in Britain's primary exports to Canada next year.

The drop would begin to appear when new contracts were being negotiated in October. Realistically, the Finance Minister forecast a slash in British buying of newsprint, lumber, non-ferrous metal and other Canadian exports.

Braced for the loss of the British contracts, Abbott had his eyes on the U.S. market as a better-than-ministerialistic. The Finance Minister briefed confidence that Canada would be able to find markets elsewhere in the world.

While Abbott was brushed this week spent an hour with the head of the British Dollar Export Board, quietly pleading Canadian help in the crisis which Abbott had declared was Britain's burden.

Howe met and chatted with Sir Graham Cunningham, head of the board voluntarily set up by British industrialists to repair the errors of Britain's socialist government.

Cunningham frankly told the press the British socialist government had completely messed up the economic situation and was even admitting its failure.

Hard-pressed Sir Stafford Cripps had given his fatherly blessing to the Dollar Export Board and its attempt by British industry to find a solution on its own hook was meeting the approval of the government.

In contrast to Cripps, who had tried to line Canada up with the sterling area countries, away from the United States dollar bloc, Cunningham said British businessmen were not asking for any favors.

They realized if they wanted to survive they would have to get out in world markets and compete for dollars on a basis of price and quality—and they were ready to do this.

After his chat with Howe, Cunningham expressed himself as "quite satisfied" with Canada's attitude. A good bet was that Canada's policy in the crisis would swing somewhere between Abbott's set-the-British-worry-about-it and Howe's "Let's give them a hand where-we-can."

Deputy Postmaster General Walter Turnbull, who lays down the rules and regulations for Canada's postal employees—got back from a trip to Australia last week just in time to receive a great big, wet telegram from the Post Office Employees' Association.

The posties—especially those at the Ottawa headquarters staff—claimed they were entitled to the same five-day week that the rest of the civil service in the Capital was getting.

Turnbull was giving them the five-day week—but when it came to taking their annual holidays, he was counting Saturday a working day.

Outside postal employees—the boys who deliver mail—claimed they weren't getting a five-day week at all. And they were going to take their benefits to Cabinet.

Blowing up, Turnbull said no "Communist-minded troublemakers" were going to run his department.

He sent the postmen a scorching answer to their brief—threatening the parties along—in lay off, a couple of thousand if they didn't settle.

"It's time these boys learned the facts of life," Turnbull said. At the end of the week, the 15,000-member postal association was still trying to get an interview with the prime minister, but that a delegation could smooth things over.

Both the National Film Board and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation have been busy as little beavers, working on their briefs for the Royal Commission on Culture which starts its sittings in Ottawa next month.

Officials of both Crown agencies expected to get a rough going over from private organizations at the hearings.

The Canadian Association of Broadcasters was preparing a brief against the use of the radio and numerous private organizations were laying for the Film Board.

The Film Board already had assigned its top men and most persuasive arguments to work out its brief. They had been hard at work for more than a month lining up the agencies to show the Film Board was a powerful prop in the edifice of Canadian culture.

Toughest item for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to explain away would be Canada's weakness in getting into television. The Film Board at least could claim it had been making pictures especially for television for at least six months.

TWO WORLD CHAMPS ATTEND RED DEER FAIR

RED DEER, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Two world champions will be present at the opening of the annual Red Deer fair Thursday.

Both from Red Deer, they are Johnny Phelan, who won the world chuck wagon championship at the Calgary stampede this year, and Sidney J. Allsup, who brought the wheat crown back to this central Alberta city.

At Friday's official opening, Mayor C. R. Bunn will present Phelan with a scroll expressing appreciation of the city for his chuck wagon victory.

The fair will wind up Saturday.

Museum Plan Is Presented

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Plans to turn Canada's National Museum into "one of the world's great museums" today were proposed in a brief presented to the Royal Commission on Arts, Science and Letters.

Headed by Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chancellor of the University of Toronto, the commission opened an investigation in Canada's cultural growth and needs for expansion.

The probe will take in through five weeks of hearings in this capital and a seven-month tour of the Dominion's principal cities.

Dr. F. J. Alcock, the museum's curator, presenting the first of some 30 briefs to be heard in Ottawa, said the big need at the moment to make the museum "one worthy of Canada" was more space.

The museum needed more money, too, he said. The present annual grant of $175,000 was not enough to prepare new exhibits and publish "the great volume of information collected at the National Museum."

Additional space was needed for additional space, new buildings could be erected on either side of the museum, which stands alone on a mid-town city block.

WHISTLE STOP

TOY TRAIN OPERATOR Overcomes Blue Law

LONDON, Ont. Aug. 3.—(CP)—A "whistle stop" called Byron West was added to the Springbank Flyer today, as it is hoped, that may put the half-mile miniature railway at nearby Springbank Park beyond the reaches of the Lord's Day Act.

On legal advice, engineer-owner James Kennedy operated the railway again Sunday for the benefit of hundreds of children.

The Sunday before it was closed down for the first time in its history on account of the law.

Provincial police cautioned Mr. Kennedy that he was liable for prosecution if he continued to operate his tiny train on the Sabbath.

Then, Mr. Kennedy's solicitor figured out that if the railway had another station or a "destination," it might technically be considered a transportation system and not affected by the Lord's Day Act.

Passengers on the park feature have been entering and leaving the train at the one stop.

"I know that many residents found difficulty in meeting heavy utility bills in the winter," said Aid Smith. "We might consider a budget-paying plan here similar to that practiced in Calgary."

B.C. Rescinds 47-Year-Old Oriental Ban

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 3.—(CP)—The provincial government yesterday wiped out a 47-year-old ban on the employment of Chinese and Japanese.

It rescinded an order passed in 1902 which prohibited the employment of Japanese or Chinese on any Crown grant or leased timber or mining properties or on any government contract, or below ground in the mines.

A new regulation provides that these restrictions are "ripped out on any future contracts for Japanese or Chinese who are Canadian citizens."

But don't laugh at my house," he said. "Those colors ain't accidental. They're the flags of the United Nations."

His island is near the spot where the late President Roosevelt of the United States fished during the second World War. But the commodore refuses to take full credit for bringing the president—"there was other people in on it."

200 Chinese Saved By Italian Ship

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Curiously about a placard covered with Chinese characters on the cabin wall of an Italian freighter today unravelled a dramatic tale of the rescue of 200 ailing Chinese who nearly drowned fleeing the Communists.

The grim tale of a race against time, weather, sickness and engine trouble came from Captain Giuseppe Lubrano of the SS Luigi.

This is the first major port the vessel has entered since it snatched a feeble distress call in the China Sea July 20.

When she was sighted by the Luigi, both the passengers and crew were near starvation. They were two days without fresh water, and the engines had stopped.

The Luigi have to add cash to the listing vessel. Both were slightly damaged when they were pulled together. A second attempt succeeded, and food and water were ferried across. Then came a tricky 24-hour, 213-mile journey, with the Italian vessel towing the Liao Hai to Keelung, Formosa.

The placard on Capt. Lubrano's wall was a card of thanks from the men, women and children whose lives had been saved.

In addition, Captain Lubrano, who modestly refused to elaborate on his vessel's exploit, has a letter from the captain of the refugee ship.

"You have saved over 200 lives from drowning," the letter reads in part. "Or should we say, God saved us, and you fulfilled God's work."

"The passengers and crew aboard feel this real friendliness and real warmth among human beings."

Death Accidental

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Bert M. Giles, CPR night watchman who was run over by a gas-electric train at nearby Glenwood station last Wednesday died an accidental death, a coroner's jury decided here. No blame was attached to the train crew.

Budget Plan Looms For Hat Utility Users

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Aug. 3.—(CP)—The prospect that all utility users will be asked to pay their accounts on a 12-month budgetary basis in 1960 loomed in city council Monday night.

Lethbridge Has Light July Rain

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Last month Lethbridge district experienced its driest July since 1947, the Dominion Meteorological Bureau reported here today.

Hours now will be from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. with an hour closed from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Present hours are from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. with no interruptions. Prior to 1946 Saskatchewan beer parlors opened at 8 o'clock in the morning and closed at 11 p.m.

Cocaine was invented by a monk in Florence, Italy, in 1155.

When she was sighted by the Luigi, both the passengers and crew were near starvation. They were two days without fresh water, and the engines had stopped.

The Luigi have to add cash to the listing vessel. Both were slightly damaged when they were pulled together. A second attempt succeeded, and food and water were ferried across. Then came a tricky 24-hour, 213-mile journey, with the Italian vessel towing the Liao Hai to Keelung, Formosa.

The placard on Capt. Lubrano's wall was a card of thanks from the men, women and children whose lives had been saved.

In addition, Captain Lubrano, who modestly refused to elaborate on his vessel's exploit, has a letter from the captain of the refugee ship.

"You have saved over 200 lives from drowning," the letter reads in part. "Or should we say, God saved us, and you fulfilled God's work."

"The passengers and crew aboard feel this real friendliness and real warmth among human beings."

Death Accidental

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Bert M. Giles, CPR night watchman who was run over by a gas-electric train at nearby Glenwood station last Wednesday died an accidental death, a coroner's jury decided here. No blame was attached to the train crew.

Toy Train Operator Overcomes Blue Law

LONDON, Ont. Aug. 3.—(CP)—A "whistle stop" called Byron West was added to the Springbank Flyer today, as it is hoped, that may put the half-mile miniature railway at nearby Springbank Park beyond the reaches of the Lord's Day Act.

On legal advice, engineer-owner James Kennedy operated the railway again Sunday for the benefit of hundreds of children.

The Sunday before it was closed down for the first time in its history on account of the law.

Provincial police cautioned Mr. Kennedy that he was liable for prosecution if he continued to operate his tiny train on the Sabbath.

Then, Mr. Kennedy's solicitor figured out that if the railway had another station or a "destination," it might technically be considered a transportation system and not affected by the Lord's Day Act.

Passengers on the park feature have been entering and leaving the train at the one stop.

STAN MCHER ON SPORT

Bobby Locke Case

Certain angles in the "Bobby Locke Case," as the recent executive hotfoot dished out to the South African shotmaker by the USPGA might be named, don't add up for this particular typewriter jockey.

We can buy all stories about the man in the plus fours being a nickel nutter. It's on record that during two separate appearances in Edmonton when his "take" exceeded $2,400, Locke failed at any time to pick up the check.

Puzzling, however, are suggestions that his cold-shouldering of would-be interviewers also has contributed to bringing on the jam in which he finds himself across the line.

Locke did anything but clam up on the Fourth Estaters hereabouts. As a matter of fact he appeared to relish any chance offered of crashing the daily blurb, to say nothing of the weeklies.

All in all he played about as hard-to-get as would a Bill Veck or other similarly publicity-wise sports figures.

It might be that Locke, getting off on the wrong foot with the press when he first arrived in the Excited States more than two years ago, never bothered to do much about reversing his field.

And now the fryers have come home to roost.

Where Was the Justice?

When you come to think of it officials of the Big Four Baseball circuit (Family Compact?) acted in a pretty four-handed manner when it came to tossing that quartet of Calgary Buffs out on their collective ears.

Actually the boys were condemned and banished without a hearing, from what can be gathered.

If this isn't so why hasn't president Sam Irvin issued a statement relative to the sudden expelling of Jim Gibson, Carl Mori, "Stretch" Garrett and Tony Mase.

So far it's been the word of "Sad Sam" Timmins against the field, the field in this case numbering quite a number more of the Buff aggregation until it came time for a showdown.

It was bad enough to place Gibson and his running mates on a Big Four black list so that they couldn't hook on elsewhere in the loop. But as well Timmins, with the apparent backing of other league executives and team operators, has announced he will endeavor to black-ball the rebels all over the prairies.

This, of course, amounts to persecution. We're very surprised that the men behind the Edmonton entries—Frank Wolfe, Brant Matthews, "Lefty" Grove and John Ducey—would stand for such an attempt being made.

Also why didn't Eaks and/or Cubs try to pick up Mori, especially? He's a pretty good performer in this case of baseball.

The Guy's a Four-Flusher

Now whaddya know? Charley Lupica is starting to weaken.

'Loop' is that goofy-like-a-fox Cleveland (sales in his drug store have kicked sharply upwards) who took to a form of flagpole sitting close to two months back up an effort to coax the Indians back to the top of the American Baseball league.

"I ain't a comin' down 'til those Indians get back where they belong in first place," druggist Lupica swore as he settled himself in his elevated 16 feet above ground, open-air pent-house for an indefinite period of light housekeeping.

For a long time the communiques from Charley were kept in keeping with his brave stand at the time of the inauguration of his one-man stand against New York Yankees.

"I'm doin' okay," he repeatedly told it, while fighting off successive attempts by Cleveland police and sanitary department heads to make him come down.

Eventually living alone and trying to like it is beginning to pall on Lupica. Now in the 62nd day of his self-appointed vigil, and with the Indians edging closer to the Yankees (the Boudreaumes are three and one-half lengths off the pace) 'Loop' has announced he will call the whole thing off the minute the Indians reach head-and-head status with the New Yorkers.

In other words Lupica now won't insist that the Ohioans have clear title to first place... four-flusher that he is.

Tiger Boss Confident Detroit Will Jump Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Red Rolfe, freshman manager of Detroit Tigers, feels that his streaking ball club has a better than fair chance of climbing into the thick of the American league race.

Red said "if we continue to get the kind of pitching we've had the last few days, we should make it interesting for any of them."

"We've won six out of eight so far on this trip. Now all I want is another good series or two to pull us up within about six games of the top when we go home."

CRACKING WHIP

"So far we've been a little too far back. It's been necessary to drive the boys a little to keep them fighting. But if we get within six games of first I think they'll catch fire on their own."

"I'd like to see them, supposed to be our best pitcher, hasn't seen any help for over a month. But we've had fine pitching from Virgil Trucks, Freddie Hutchinson, Ted Gray, Art Houtenham and some others. This Houtenham kid can't be a great one if he takes care of himself."

"As I see it, the reason we have a chance is the way the others—New York, Cleveland and Boston—keep knocking each other off. None of the three leaders is able to pile up a real winning streak and pull away."

A PUZZLER

What's actually puzzling me most about this race is that Boston club. When I look over their line-up and study the batting figures and don't see why they aren't clear out in front. No one knows better than I do that Joe Mauer is a great manager. But they have those long losing streaks.

"It's a mystery."

Jim Ennis Wins Motorcycle Run

Jim Ennis of the Edmonton Motorcycle club won top prize in the first annual Totem Pole endurance run between Jasper and Edmonton recently.

Ennis received a sum of money and the F. Fure trophy for his win. Second and third prizes were won by Edmond Deby of EMC and Ed Green, Gateway Motorcycle club.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3.—(BUP) —If Vancouver's Jackie Turner give "Jumpin' Jack" much of chance to beat Marino, who

"In the event of Turner beating Masino, I will be interested in making an old man for boxing at 32, will meet Turner six years younger, in the Forum at Vancouver Thursday night.

This is the second time they met. Turner, a cautious fighter his best, stayed the 10 round limit with Marino several months ago in Honolulu.

Tigers Back Rolfe's Boast, Humiliating Yanks

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(CP)—When a guy goes on a limb, it isn't unusual for his opponents to cut it off. Just yesterday manager Red Rolfe told his Detroit Tigers that it wouldn't be surprising if his Detroit Tigers were asked to play for other American league clubs.

A few hours later his Tigers backed him up. Besides humiliating leading New York Yankees with an attack spearheaded by home runs, Tigers 1-0 pitched a perfect game.

To make victory even more encouraging for Rolfe, the Detroit team had won its first game since June 21, and its first time in more than a month that he has won the FINE SEND OFF.

Season isn't over. Tigers have given B. F. Feltner, who has a better than fair chance of climbing into the top league race, a little more confidence.

At Yankees' lead in Cleveland Indians' game, the night Nat race was unchanged. Brooklyn Dodgers and Cardinals registering wins.

Cardinals, who are game in front of Brooklyn, led 7-2 at Red Munger pitched ball and his teammate doubles and a triple. St. Louis had one of the double triple.

Reporter Finds Model Is Model Assignment

By John McLean
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Edmonton, Aug. 3.—A reporter found the way the city editor does his job. "Go down to the train and interview this girl," he'd said.

Well, you don't argue with city editors (and while arguing any way) so I trotted off to the depot.

How right was my editor. The girl was waiting for me. She had come from Toronto to spend a week or two with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Nelson, of 11344th street.

When you see a girl like this, you know she's a model. I asked Mr. Nelson how long she had been in the city. He said she had been in the city for a week or two.

And, pulling myself up to my best, I looked out square in the eye. "Fine. Beautiful. How?"

She said her name was Gerry Nelson, that she was an Edmonton girl who'd gone to the big city. She didn't have to say she was a model.

Gerry, who had turned 20 and has two of the cutest dimples I've ever seen, is a model in the city.

She said her name was Gerry Nelson, that she was an Edmonton girl who'd gone to the big city. She didn't have to say she was a model.

Gerry, who had turned 20 and has two of the cutest dimples I've ever seen, is a model in the city.

She had come from Toronto to spend a week or two with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Nelson, of 11344th street.

When you see a girl like this, you know she's a model. I asked Mr. Nelson how long she had been in the city. He said she had been in the city for a week or two.

And, pulling myself up to my best, I looked out square in the eye. "Fine. Beautiful. How?"

SHOPPING GUIDE

Clearance Sales Are Harbingers of Fall

By Ben Thrifty

With the temperature striking a sizzling new high, this seems hardly the time to be thinking of fall clothes.

First fashion favorites for fall are being shown this week in city stores, as summer stocks become depleted. However, managers and buyers agree that it will be a few weeks before lines are complete.

And even if the weather man has other ideas, sales of summer clothing are the first signs of the cooler weather ahead.

Stores are splashed with "reduced to clear" signs and cravily shoppers should take advantage of the drop in price on such items as cotton frocks, bathing suits and summer play shoes.

Think how nice it will be next summer with a complete wardrobe and a bulging wallet!

Newest styles in sport slacks are eye as I plunged into the modern air-conditioned store. Hanging in price from $15.00 to $35.00, these semicircular and dress slacks are in the latest shades.

Particularly fetching was a soft wool crepe in terra cotta tone, while another in palest grey jersey had a knot of forest green satin ribbon tied beneath its Peter Pan collar.

Later in August, there'll be lots of cool nights when you'll be glad to wear one of these light-weight pretties.

Not tonight, though!

And now will you join me for a long cool drink?

Instead of ice cubes. To make them, mix a dash of lemon juice with your favorite flavors. When they're well-chilled, open your slowly into the ice cube tray and freeze as quickly as possible.

Pretty as well as palatable are raspberry cubes in a glass of sparkling ginger ale, or cubes of frozen grape pop in a lemonade.

Speaking of cold drinks, that traditional summer cooler, iced tea, takes on new and undiluted flavor when you freeze cubes of tea instead of water. Pour freshly steeped hot tea over these, and add lemon or mint.

WHY GROW OLD

Today Music Is Easily Available

By Josephine Lowman

In this country today, we have access to many avenues through which we can enjoy music. There are concerts, musical instruments in our own home, record players and the radio.

Through these last two mediums the great music of the world comes to our own door. I imagine as many homes have radios as bathrooms, and many have several of each.

Record players are popular with the young and the old alike. They are a convenient way of listening to music, and they are also a good investment.

Radio is also a popular way of listening to music. It is convenient and it is free. However, it is not always the best quality of music that is available.

Concerts are also a popular way of listening to music. They are a great way to experience live music, and they are also a good way to support the arts.

Musical instruments in our own home are also a popular way of listening to music. They are a great way to learn to play an instrument, and they are also a good way to enjoy music on your own terms.

Record players, radio, and musical instruments are all ways of listening to music. They are all convenient and they are all good investments.

So, why grow old? Why not enjoy music today? Music is easily available, and it is a great way to spend your time.

Music is a great way to relax and unwind. It is a great way to forget your troubles and enjoy the moment.

Music is a great way to connect with others. It is a great way to share your love of music with your friends and family.

Music is a great way to improve your mood. It is a great way to feel better and more positive about life.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby Feeding Is Time To Show Affection

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The technique of giving the bottle is designed to make a success of artificial feedings when breast feeding is a failure.

The first test of that practice is to hold the baby when he is fed. Not only is it difficult for a tiny baby to keep milk flowing continuously in his mouth when the bottle is propped up, but he is denied what is vitally important to him, the warm and physical contact with the mother.

It is when the tiny baby is calling the mother has an opportunity to make this a satisfying ceremony for him and show him that wealth of affection she feels for him by cuddling him, talking softly and holding him comfortably and firmly. These satisfactions at the early age are important to the later ages and make the baby happy and secure.

During the first part of the feeding it is possible to use a nipple with a smaller hole than during the latter half. Babies need to exert themselves to get food from the bottle and they will when they are hungry. When their first appetite has been appeased and they are tired, they will not exert themselves to get food from the bottle and they will when they are hungry. When their first appetite has been appeased and they are tired, they will not exert themselves to get food from the bottle and they will when they are hungry.

Keep moving the nipple around in the baby's mouth so that he will have to grasp it and draw firmly upon it. These small tricks keep the baby awake, help him to exert himself and are beneficial to the development of his jaw. It is the lazy, bottle-fed baby, who has only to punch his gums to get a mouthful of milk, who may resort to finger or thumb-sucking, because he lacks enough sucking exercise while feeding.

Burping is not necessary with some babies as with others. But, all babies tend to swallow some air while they eat, and since gas forms in the stomach as the result of digestion. This should be belched up once at least, during a feeding and always at the end.

The baby who is put down to sleep and then fusses and cries, though the mother knows that he is "full," may need to be lifted up and his back rubbed or patted in order to bring up that last bubble of air that is causing discomfort.

Odd Pranks Are Played By Weather

VERMILION, Aug. 2.—Vagaries of the weather are posing a problem for farmers in the Vermilion and Lloydminster areas of eastern Alberta.

At Vermilion, the weather has been a constant source of worry. The rain that fell last night was a relief to the farmers, but it was not enough to wash away the drought. The farmers are hoping for a heavy rain to come soon.

The grain situation in the Vermilion district is not as good as it was a few weeks ago. The farmers are still worried about the weather. They are hoping for a heavy rain to come soon.

At Lloydminster, the crops are all in head but there are small and grain crops are in poor shape. The farmers are hoping for a heavy rain to come soon.

But with the farmers' pessimism, the weather is still a source of worry. They are hoping for a heavy rain to come soon.

Old Whisky Forts Better Left Alone

By Ken Liddell

In a recent treatise on Alberta place names as quoted in a government publication pointing out names followed various phases of development including that of whisky trade, which was probably more of a business than a pleasure.

That phase of the province's history, and now Ernest Brown produces the answer. Apparently they just fell apart, along with the forts of the whisky traders.

The whisky traders, of course, were not the only ones who were interested in the whisky trade. They were also interested in the whisky trade. They were also interested in the whisky trade.

Probably the best known fort of this type was the one built in 1868. It was built in 1868. It was built in 1868.

The whisky traders, of course, were not the only ones who were interested in the whisky trade. They were also interested in the whisky trade. They were also interested in the whisky trade.

NURSE RISKS LIFE IN SAVING PATIENT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—(UP)—A pretty young student nurse risked her own life yesterday to save the life of an elderly patient.

The man, a cancer patient at the Philadelphia General Hospital, moved out on a two-foot ledge outside his fifth floor room. He said there, dangling his feet over the courtyard below.

The 30-year-old student nurse, Marilyn Crowe, had only a few minutes to go before she ended her night shift. But she heard the alarm ring by frightened witnesses who saw the elderly man crawl out on the ledge. And she rushed to come to his aid.

Without hesitation, she eased her way out of the window. She talked constantly to the man, who sat muttering to himself. When she was near enough, she grabbed his leg and somehow managed to manoeuvre the patient near a window, where an orderly dragged him into the room.

Miss Crowe doesn't think much of her rescue. With becoming modesty, the young student nurse said "I guess it's just one of the things you do."

Archbishop Says Yugoslav Charges Red Propaganda

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Archbishop Gregor Rozman, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Slovenia, describes as "Communist propaganda" a charge that he had been a wartime "servant" of the Nazis in occupied Yugoslavia.

He was commenting in an interview on a protest against his entry into Canada telegraphed to Prime Minister St. Laurent last week by the Canadian council of south Slavs. Archbishop Rozman, who now lives in Cleveland, O., came to Toronto to celebrate mass Sunday in St. Mary's Polish church here.

THEY'RE JUST POOR FISH

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Fish at the Wolf Lake hatchery near here are participating in a project that make it tougher than ever for their fellow-fish to evade the angler's hook.

They are demonstrating to scientists how fish react to the sounds of a motorboat. When the study is complete, the facts obtained may help boat fishermen outwit their prey.

Old People's Homes Crowded In Japan

TOKYO, Aug. 3.—(Reuters)—Japan's 113 old people's homes are crowded beyond capacity and are still being besieged with applicants.

A typical case, Yokufuren in Tokyo, was built to accommodate 450 people but it has 526 inmates. Officials say they turn away five or six applicants every day.

Richest Uranium Find Claimed by Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 3.—(UP)—An old hillside mine near Prescott, Ariz., may turn out to be one of the nation's biggest uranium deposits, director Charles Dunning of Arizona's department of mineral resources said today.

Because of encouraging samples of uranium ore taken from the mine, the Atomic Energy Commission is sending Dr. George Bain, an Amherst University scientist, to make a study of it, Dunning said.

PREVIOUSLY GOLD One taken from the old mine, worked intermittently for 50 years for gold, silver, lead and zinc deposits, was of a type that would qualify it for the $10,000 bonus offer by the AEC if it can be concentrated to a 20 per cent grade.

"No other mining property so far examined in Arizona has such possibilities," Dunning declared. "For that matter in the United States, since two-thirds of the nation's supply of uranium ore is produced in Arizona."

PICAYUNE REWARD

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 3.—(Reuters)—A 12-year-old boy yesterday reaped a quarter of a million in rough seas to rescue a man and his son, thrown into the water when their yacht, capsized, near here. He also salvaged the yacht.

On shore, the man said "Thank you to the boy—and gave him one krona, the equivalent of 20 cents."

Prolific Hamster Barred From N.Z.

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Aug. 3.—(Reuters)—New Zealand will impose a fine of $200 ($800) on anyone trying to bring in a hamster, a rat-like animal popular in some parts of the world as a pet—because officials estimate that under the favorable conditions in New Zealand a couple of hamsters could produce a population of 22,000,000 in less than three years.

BRITAIN ORGANIZES ATOM WAR DEFENCE

LONDON, Aug. 3.—(UP)—Britain's Home Office announced today its civil defence program to protect the population from atomic and bacteriological warfare will come into operation Aug. 15.

Recruitment of Civil Defence Corps volunteers, auxiliary firemen, doctors and nurses will probably begin Nov. 1, government officials said.

The government passed the civil defence bill last November. It called for the training of a peacetime reserve and a civil defence organization capable of rapid expansion in case of war.

Home Secretary J. C. C. Clarke announced during debate on the bill that Dr. E. T. Paris, noted British scientist, had been appointed chief scientific adviser to the Home Office "with special responsibility for planning measures to mitigate the effect of atomic, bacteriological, and chemical mass destruction weapons."

South City Men Get Back Pay

CALGARY, Aug. 3.—(CP)—Santa Clara paid a visit to Calgary elvite employees yesterday.

E. A. Houskay, city comptroller, announced that cheques for back pay, given under the new agreement for the year, were distributed to 10 of the 11 elvite unions.

The total amount distributed was $147,000. Still to receive the back pay are members of the Electricians' Union, whose agreement is yet to be signed.

The new agreements are retroactive to January 1.
